

CheckVideo Portal Customer Release Notes October 29, 2020

NEW: Print a Video Frame

Our new video player on the History > Search Events page makes it easier for you to capture and print a video frame. All you need to do is pause your clip at the frame you want to print out, open the menu on the top left of the player and select "Print Frame". This will create a printable page with the video frame and the date and time. Depending on your printer, you can configure the page layout and whether the printout is in color or black and white.

NEW: Share Exported Video

Downloading recorded video is easy but it can sometimes be difficult to share large downloaded video files with your team or local law enforcement. Our new share feature on the Extended Export page allows you to share a secure link. Click the Action icon to e-mail or download the secure link to share video clips as needed.

CheckVideo Mobile App Updates

Your CheckVideo app now includes usability improvements for the Arm/Disarm feature. If a camera is disarmed, the camera name will appear grey. Likewise, when armed, the name will appear in color. Additionally, when making the request to arm/disarm your camera(s), the app will notify you that the request is successfully executed.
